

FOR COOLING OUT LOUD

Welcome to Pawel Cierniak

SPAL UK is pleased to introduce Pawel Cierniak as OEM Business Development Manager at a time of seismic change for the automotive industry and accordingly an extremely exciting time for us as world leading designer and manufacturer of high-performance fans and blowers.

Pawel's role will be focused on the UK market, promoting SPAL's advanced technology brushless motor products for main engine and battery thermal management, and blowers for HVAC. He will be looking to support OEMs on their journey to lower emissions through expanding EV platforms and branching out into alternative fuelled vehicles.

All Set for LAMMA

After a couple of false starts, LAMMA 2022 is finally happening at the NEC 4-5 May, marking 40 years of the agricultural machinery, equipment and technology show.

The SPAL mobile exhibition vehicle will be there sporting its new panels and the conversation will be about the next big thing in agricultural, thermal management for hydrogen propulsion systems.
