VE Expo 2022

SPAL is gearing up for the long-awaited return of the Vehicle Electrification Expo (29th-30th June at the NEC) dedicated to the latest powertrain solutions to improve the performance, efficiency, safety and sustainability of vehicles.

SPAL will be showcasing its range of high-performance brushless technology axial fans. Particularly suited to the demands of battery cooling, the fully sealed motor units are built to IP6K9K safety specifications making them spark-free and waterproof. Software driven, the onboard computer precisely controls the fan to ensure optimum efficiency and effective cooling.
