

FOR COOLING OUT LOUD

Welcome to the first edition of the newsletter in 2021.

With the eleventh-hour deal sealed we remain Brexit-ready. We have been overstocking ever since the Brexit vote and the Italy factory is still producing, so we are protected against supply chain delays.

Strong Start to 2021

SPAL starts the year in a positive mode as, despite these strange times, sales are lively across all sectors and we are heading for a record January. Customers are contacting us for orders as they have adapted operations to COVID secure guidelines in order to continue production.

Clean Operations

With the more transmissible virus circulating, we have stepped up cleaning regimes around the warehouse and offices with particular attention to touch points. A daily record sheet is completed after each clean to keep on top of it. We wear masks and gloves in communal areas and each morning monitor temperatures of the staff.
